THE MATCHUP...The two teams square off for the second time in a month to complete a rare non-conference home-and-home series.

SCOUTING BINGHAMTON...The Bearcats (2-7) have alternated losses and wins over the last five games — the most recent being a five-point setback at Albany two nights ago. In that game, BU received a career-high 29 points from junior guard Troy Hailey but lost sophomore point guard Mike Gordon for the bulk of the pivotal second half with a broken nose. The Bearcats misfired on 17 of their first 20 shots of the second half and Albany built a 10-point cushion before holding off a late BU rally in the closing seconds. Senior guard Andre Heard and junior forward Duane James scored 16 and 12 points, respectively, but the Bearcats were whistled for a season-high 29 fouls and had four players, including three starters, foul out of the game.

SCOUTING CCSU...The Blue Devils (4-4) are coming off a wild 108-107 four-overtime loss to La Salle on Sunday. In that game, CCSU received 28 points and nine assists from sophomore guard Tristan Blackwood but La Salle won the game with a pair of free throws with no time on the clock. Senior guard Justin Chiera scored 21 points. The Blue Devils have alternated losses and wins over the last four games, posting victories over Harvard and St. Francis.

Bullets about Binghamton University

About the University...

- Liberal-arts based college located in Central New York approximately 70 miles south of Syracuse near the Pennsylvania border
- Outstanding academic institution which has been ranked among U.S. News & World Report's Top 50 public universities in the nation for nine consecutive years
- Part of the State University of New York system, Binghamton is one of four university centers within the system (University of Buffalo, Albany and Stony Brook are the others)
- School opened its doors in 1946 as Triple Cities College of Syracuse University

About the Athletics Program...

- Fledgling Division I program in just its fifth overall year
- Was a Division III program from its inception until 1998 when the University began its divisional upgrade through Division II (1998-2001) and finally Division I (2001-) in the America East Conference
- The 21-sport program enjoyed strong Division III success in men's soccer and wrestling in the 70s and 80s, and women's soccer, women's basketball, men's tennis and men's golf in the 90s
- As a Division I program, BU has captured 10 America East conference titles in five years of membership (men's swimming, men's tennis, men's lacrosse, men's golf, men's soccer, women's soccer, volleyball), including the women's volleyball title won in November
- Binghamton athletes have maintained an overall GPA of 3.0 or higher for 11 of the last 13 semesters and have won two America East Academic Cups for achieving the highest GPA in the nine-team conference

About the Men's Basketball Program...

- BU drew national attention (USA Today, N.Y. Times) after taking North Carolina to the final buzzer in a 61-60 loss in Chapel Hill on December 16, 2001
- Bearcats recorded their first Division I postseason win last March 5, defeating Albany 76-70 in the America East quarterfinals in front of 5,222 fans in the Events Center
- Head coach Al Walker used to be the coach and athletics director at Chaminade University (1996-00), where his teams hosted the Maui Invitational each season
- In January 2004, Binghamton opened the 5,142-seat Events Center on campus, which will be the host venue for the 2006 America East Men's Basketball Championship and the 2007 America East Women's Basketball Championship

About the Alumni...

- Paul Reiser '77, actor, comedian and director and Tony Kornheiser '70, reporter, columnist and co-host of ESPN's Pardon the Interruption

The last time these two teams met

Back on November 28 in Vestal, CCSU held off the host Bearcats 69-66 in a see-saw game that featured 15 ties and 12 lead changes. The Blue Devils banked in a three-pointer to break a 62-all tie with 1:17 left and sank four free throws (4-of-4) in the final 12 seconds to seal the victory. Sophomore guard Tristan Blackwood hit 8-of-11 shots, including 4-of-6 from three-point range to lead CCSU with 20 points. Junior forward Javier Mojica added 18 points for the Blue Devils, who shot 52% for the game. Junior guard Troy Hailey scored 20 points to lead four BU players in double digits.

Gordon out with broken nose

After starting 23 consecutive games dating back to last season, sophomore point guard Mike Gordon will miss tonight's contest after suffering a broken nose in the Albany game on Tuesday. Early in the second half, Gordon took an elbow coming off a screen and had to leave the game. Gordon ranks first in the America East in assist-to-turnover ratio (2.24), first in steals per game (2.12) and second in assists (4.75/gm.).

Hailey lights it up at Albany

Junior guard Troy Hailey had an exceptional game at Albany two nights ago. Hailey canned his first four shots, including three three-pointers, and went on to pour in a career-high 29 points on 7-of-12 shooting. Hailey contributed 18 points after intermission, including 10 points in the game's final four minutes to nearly rally BU. The 29-point performance ties the best single-game effort by any player in the America East this season. He sank 11-of-12 free throws and added four rebounds and two steals in 37 minutes. Hailey's output was the fourth-highest point total in BU's Division I tenure. Only teammate Andre Heard (32 pts. vs. Colgate) and Anthony Green (32 and 30 points) surpassed his total.

Foul frenzy leaves BU without its regulars at Albany

The Bearcats were whistled for a season-high 29 fouls at Albany, and had to finish the game with four bench players in the pivotal final minute. Binghamton was called for nine fouls in the first 10 minutes of the second half and four players wound up fouling out of the game, including three starters (Hermenier, Fithian, Heard).

Al Walker

Head Coach

Heading into his sixth year at the helm of Binghamton's most visible sports team, Al Walker has quickly shaped his basketball program into a conference-contender while also shaping his student-athletes into community role models and well-rounded young men.

A passionate coach entering his 18th year overall, Walker has quickly transformed the Bearcats into one of the sturdiest programs in the America East Conference. After surpassing preseason expectations three straight years, his 2004-05 team earned the program's first Division I postseason victory last March, thrilling a sellout crowd of 5,222 with an inspired win over Albany in the conference quarterfinals.

Walker's commitment to recruiting talented individuals with solid character and citizenship has drawn the support of the campus and Greater Binghamton community, which have come out in record numbers to watch the Bearcats.

"It's so important that our guys are good people, work hard and recognize how special this opportunity is at Binghamton," Walker said. "We have a chance to bring pride and joy to our community."

Back in 2000 when the University hired Walker to steer its men's basketball team into the rough waters of Division I, the school was banking on Walker's reputation for building programs from the ground up. At the same time, the administration hoped the divisional move would enhance the University's national reputation.

Thanks to aggressive recruiting and an even more aggressive team defense, Walker has made quick work of those goals.

Another constant in Walker's program has been the tradition of scheduling high-caliber opponents. In his first five years,

Walker has brought BU into battle against such nationally prominent programs as Syracuse, Kansas, North Carolina, Michigan,

Iowa State, Providence and Villanova. His team's performance against the Tar Heels in Chapel Hill on December 16, 2001, resulted in a flurry of national praise. Four days after UNC had to rally for a 61-60 win, Walker's photo graced the pages of USA Today above the headline "Binghamton makes its name."

Walker believes in rewarding his out-of-state players with a high-profile game back home, and thus has brought his team up against teams from the Big East, Big 12 and ACC in recent years. This season is no exception, as the Bearcats will travel to the Sooner state to play perennial NCAA team Oklahoma University and also play in the Utah State Holiday Classic for the benefit of seniors Andre Heard and Schafer Jackson, respectively.

Walker was introduced at a press conference on March 16, 2000. A unanimous selection among the University's advisory committee, Walker became the 10th coach in Binghamton's 55 years of basketball — and the first with Division I coaching experience.

"Al Walker had the breadth of experience we were looking for," said Joel Thirer, director of health, physical education and athletics. "He has coached at the Division I level, and has recruited and taught student-athletes that fit our University's elite academic profile. Al is well respected across the country, and we are confident he will build our program the same way he has done in the past."

Building a Winner

Under the tutelage of sixth-year head coach Al Walker, the Binghamton University men's basketball program is embarking on a meteoric rise in the ranks of Division I basketball in the America East Conference. All eyes have quickly been drawn to the Bearcats, who surpassed expectations in each of their first three years and are now poised to challenge for the conference championship. With aggressive marketing, administrative support and a fan base that is unmatched in the nine-team league, Binghamton has quickly emerged as the program of the future.

Playing in a Palace

From the inaugural game at the Events Center in January 2004 to the highly-successful 2005 America East Championship, fans have flocked to the $33.1 million state-of-the-art basketball arena to cheer on the Bearcats. Binghamton has led the entire conference in home attendance in each of the last two seasons.

Hosting the Conference Championship again

On the heels of its successful host role for the 2005 America East Men's Basketball Championship, Binghamton was promptly awarded the 2006 championship and will welcome the conference and its fan base to campus on March 3-5.

Last March, Binghamton hosted the first three rounds of the championship and drew 15,977 fans - more than double the attendance from the 2004 event. The quarterfinal session attendance of 8,284 on March 5 was the third-highest figure in conference tournament history.

Buoyed by the big home crowds, BU defeated fourth-seeded Albany in the quarterfinals in front of 5,222 fans and then brilliantly battled eventual champion Vermont before falling in the semifinals.

Maximum Exposure

The Bearcats have already gained regional and national exposure - thanks to marquis players, strong scheduling and broadcast exposure. Binghamton has increased its national profile with an appearance in the preseason NIT and recent games against NCAA powers Syracuse, Kansas, Villanova and North Carolina. The Bearcats will travel across the country to face elite programs again in 2005-06. A matchup with perennial NCAA tournament team Oklahoma and a holiday tournament at 2005 NCAA tournament team Utah State highlight the schedule.

Binghamton has been equally aggressive in the media market, where the school secured a conference-best four televised games in 2004-05, in addition to offering all 29 home and away games on live radio that was streamed on the internet.

Role Models

Binghamton basketball coaches and players reach out to the community throughout the year. The team hosts free clinics, visits community schools and makes young children an integral part of every game night. Through their athletic and academic achievement, sportsmanship and community service, the Bearcats are positive role models for kids of all ages.

The Place to Be

With four starters back, a highly-touted recruiting class on its way, a jammed Events Center atmosphere on campus, and the conference tournament returning to town, clearly the best is yet to come in 2005-06.
