A PHOTOGRAPHIC EXHIBITION BY MEMBERS OF THE UNIVERSITY AND BINGHAMTON COMMUNITIES

FEBRUARY 7 - MARCH 5, 1972

University Art Gallery, State University of New York at Binghamton

INTRODUCTION

Following the success of the first university and community photography exhibition held during March of 1971, we have attempted to recapture the quality and diversity of the original show. This second major photographic exhibition contains the work of more than 45 photographers, most of whom are SUNY Binghamton students. Preparation and coordination of the exhibit was accomplished primarily by Harpur students and was funded by the Undergraduate Art Majors Committee.

We feel that an exhibition of this nature encourages photographers to judge their work in terms of their own esthetics as well as in terms of the other photographers whose work can be compared. We hope to encourage an expanding awareness of the art of photography among photographers themselves and those who have an appreciation for the art. Perhaps the present exhibit will begin a trend to have an annual show that will keep photography in the limelight, particularly as a means for SUNY Binghamton students to display their work.

My thanks go to Sid Horowitz who helped to judge the entries, to Karen Rubin, editor of Image, who assisted me in all aspects, to Mrs. Mary Newcome and Mr. Michael Milkovich of the University Art Gallery, and to those people who aided in the preparation of the exhibit.
