Course petition process for Biology courses

The flow chart below explains the course petition process. Read carefully so you understand why it is so important that you answer all the questions on the course petition form correctly and attach a course schedule.

1. Course petition forms are given to the person who makes the decision for the specific course, usually the faculty member who will teach the course.
2. When space opens and a petition is approved, the petition is taken to the Biology Dept. office. Attaching your schedule helps the faculty member with the selection especially in classes with multiple sections.

   Registrar computer accepts the registration

   Yes

   Find out thru BUSI. Please withdraw your other petitions by contacting faculty members, not the dept. office.

   No

You will receive an e-mail message (with copy to faculty member) stating the reason. The four most common reasons are:

   (1) Student did not sign the petition.
   (2) Financial – library fine, parking fine, other fees unpaid
   (3) Time conflict – you can authorize dropping of the conflicting course on the petition form
   (4) Overload – you can authorize dropping of a course or courses so you don’t end up with an overload, on the petition form. No student can be registered for an overload until the 9th day of classes. If you must go this route, see http://harpur-advising.binghamton.edu/current/forms/overload.htm for further instructions.

If you cannot be registered for whatever reason, the faculty member / Biology Dept office personnel will move on to register the next student(s) in the queue.

   What to do?

   Do you still want to be registered in the course?

   Yes

   Fill out the course petition form again, this time having fixed whatever reason blocked the registration.

   No

   You do not have to do anything. The original course petition will not be considered any longer.

Now that you know the process, proceed to the next page for the course petition form.
