WELCOME

PRESIDENT HARVEY G. STENGER, THE BINGHAMTON UNIVERSITY COUNCIL, FACULTY, ALUMNI AND STUDENTS OF BINGHAMTON UNIVERSITY, STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK, ARE HONORED BY YOUR PRESENCE AT SPRING 2021 COMMENCEMENT.
GRADUATES, PARENTS AND FRIENDS:

Commencement is always the highlight of the academic year, especially for the students we are honoring, but also for their friends and family who supported them on their educational path. Faculty and staff, too, share in the excitement that Commencement inspires.

The Class of 2021 has had a college experience virtually unparalleled in the University’s history. COVID-19 interrupted the rhythms and rituals of the academic year, sending students home and requiring the mastery of new remote learning skills. The members of the Class of 2021 proved resilient and capable and have reached the culmination of their academic careers at Binghamton, stronger for the obstacles they have had to overcome.

Our graduates have gained the experiences and knowledge that their careers and future engagements will demand of them. Ours is a campus where students learn by doing, and our graduates have already proven themselves — winning prestigious case competitions and grants, publishing papers that have gained acclaim from scientists and scholars, and bettering their communities through hands-on internships and practicums.

Outside the classroom, they have embraced their responsibilities as active members of the community. They’ve raised funds to combat deadly disease, provided food for the hungry, taught younger students in local schools and traveled across the globe to work with and learn from their international peers. Our graduates have learned the practical, technical and professional skills that will enable success throughout their careers.

But, most important, Binghamton University has provided the foundation in the liberal arts and participation in a diverse and international student body that gives all our students the understanding and perspectives they need to address the challenges we face in society today and in the coming decades.

We saw this most clearly over the past year, as the Class of 2021 stepped up to the challenges posed by a world-wide pandemic, and their response will serve as an example for future classes — diving into the challenges of remote learning, designing 3D-printed nozzles for much-needed respirators, volunteering for COVID-testing sites and bringing food to isolated members of the community. Throughout, the Class of 2021 has risen to the moment.

So let’s applaud the achievements of a remarkable group of students and recognize the many faculty and staff who helped guide, mentor and challenge them. And most of all, let us celebrate the families and friends whose support was crucial in this most challenging year.

Again, I congratulate our graduates. As scholars and engaged citizens, they are now ready to apply their talents “in the real world.” I know that whatever the future holds for them, they leave Binghamton with a strong foundation for success.

It has been a pleasure to witness the achievements of the Class of 2021. Graduates, thank you for choosing Binghamton University and I hope that you will remain engaged with your alma mater.

Sincerely,

Harvey G. Stenger
President
This page in the Commencement program isn’t large enough to list all of the challenges you’ve been through since last March. Although the past 14 months have been difficult and the future can never be certain, there is one very positive point to focus on: You persevered and graduated! I’m incredibly proud of you and what you’ve accomplished, and I hope you feel tremendous pride as well.

Did you know that when you graduate, you automatically become a member of the Alumni Association? You’re now part of a powerful network of more than 143,000 people around the world. And it’s a resource you can tap into for your entire lifetime. Moving to a new city? Reach out to Binghamton alumni. Looking to change jobs or careers? Reach out to Binghamton alumni. Networking is one of the most important skills you can develop, and it can pay off immensely.

We have many ways you can stay connected to the University and other alumni. Once the celebrations are done and you have some down time, check out our pages on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram, and be sure to join the Alumni Association’s LinkedIn group. Keep your personal information up to date in the online alumni directory so you’re always in the loop about alumni events in your area. All of these are available through binghamton.edu/alumni.

Don’t forget to join us in October for Homecoming. Whenever you’re on campus, make the Alumni Center the first place you visit.

Congratulations on all you’ve accomplished at Binghamton University! I’m excited for you beyond words, and hope you’ll stay connected with us. Wherever you go, Binghamton is always a part of you, and you’re always a part of Binghamton.

Alumni Message

Ada Robinson-Perez, PhD ’19
Assistant Professor, Social Work

As a social worker involved in direct practice and community organizing for over 20 years in this region, I have always enjoyed a good challenge! Earning my PhD in Community Research in Action from Binghamton University was certainly one of the most significant challenges of my life. However, soon after my dissertation defense in November 2019, I would experience the greatest loss of my life followed by a global pandemic that turned life completely upside down for me (and us all). Inspired by a quote from Maya Angelou, I learned that I may be changed by my circumstances but I refuse to be broken or reduced by them. In my reflection, I am so grateful for my proverbial “village” that has provided me with relentless support during and after my doctoral journey. My village of support includes my phenomenal family and a circle of friends and colleagues, underpinned by my faith. Who is in your village? Who inspires you? It is critical that we value those who are with us today and that we not forget those who have gone on before us.

Our accomplishments are never achieved in a vacuum. I had the pleasure of being under the tutelage of my advisor, the late Lubna Chaudhry, for over five years. Her legacy as a great feminist scholar and activist inspired me to use my voice in my scholarship to center and uplift the voices of those marginalized. She was an unapologetic advocate and refused to allow her students to give up on themselves. I was also inspired by the lives of research-activists, Lisa Blitz, with whom I co-taught in my first doctoral year, and my colleague and friend, Dominic Davy, with whom I shared many laughs and meals during conference travels. I have to believe that great tragedy can propel us forward to achieve great success, especially when we give of ourselves to serve those in need. I am proud to be an alumna of Binghamton University and pleased that I can continue to give back to the social work profession as an assistant professor, here in the Department of Social Work.

This has been a turbulent year of losses. This has also been a year of legacy to remind us of the power of purpose, the need for resistance and the importance of persistence as we move forward as a community of thriving scholars.

Congratulations to the CCPA Class of 2021! You did it! Be proud and as Dr. Blitz often told me… “KEEP GOING!”

It is my honor to represent my fellow students in the Decker College of Nursing and Health Sciences. I thank those at Binghamton University who worked so hard to make this Commencement possible.

When my fellow classmates and I first opened our textbooks as new graduate students just a few short months ago, we had no idea that by the time we would finally close them, we would be looking up and seeing a completely changed world. In the blink of an eye, we went from life as we knew it to a changed world where we had so much to fear: a deadly virus, not graduating on time, accidentally unmuting yourself and saying something embarrassing during Zoom class. This was not an easy transition, and I am so proud to be included in this historic and unique cohort of graduates, which somehow managed to handle these unprecedented times with poise and grace. I sincerely congratulate each and every one of you today for what I think we should consider one of our biggest accomplishments.

For those of you who might not know, this class is a group of talented individuals who are continuing their journeys in the field of nursing. During this program, many of us continued working as nurses, some in hospitals, some in offices, some in rural areas, but all of us had one major thing in common: combating a global pandemic at our jobs while trying to earn a degree. While this seems like an almost impossible task, it was done seamlessly by my amazing classmates, and there can be only one good explanation for that. It’s because we are nurses. It is how we are programmed. No matter what the circumstances and no matter what challenges we are faced with, we accommodate, we advocate and we persevere, and I could not be more proud of all of us.

To future students, if you are apprehensive about moving forward in academics, your career or even just life, believe me I understand, but I implore you to look at what was just accomplished by this graduating class. We tackled the impossible, and you can, too. I thank you all so much for spending this important time with us, and I thank you for allowing me to speak on behalf of the graduate nursing Class of 2021. Congratulations guys! We did it!
You have been the greatest classmates, but more importantly, the greatest friends.
Some of us will be at the bedside, while others become nurse practitioners, nurse anesthetists, nurse educators and the list goes on. We sit and think about the future ahead, waiting to unlock our full potential. No matter what you do after Decker, do it with love and kindness in your heart and passion in your soul. Remember that people are what matter, and you have the ability to change lives, even in small ways. Take care of yourselves, so you can take care of others fully. You are one person with two hands and one brain. Don’t let the difficulty and busy nature of this career turn you cold, but instead, know that some days will be good, and others could be better, but in the end, you chose to be a nurse for a reason.

It takes a special person to be a nurse. I am proud of you. The faculty and staff are proud of you. Even Walter Matthews is proud of you!

I want to close by saying thank you. I have so much love for and would be nothing without the people around me. To my peers and professors, you have given me confidence and prepared me for the world. To the advising office, for watching me grow into myself over the years. To the healthcare workers who have been on the frontlines. And most importantly to my family. Dad and Ma, I hope I’ve made you proud, and I know my mom is looking down on me in this moment. When I first came to Binghamton, I had no idea what the next four years had in store, but this is where I was meant to be. The next time I see a patient, I’ll be saying “Hi. My name is Alyssa, and I’m going to be your nurse today.”

Ladies, gentlemen, family, friends, faculty and my fellow classmates of the Class of 2021: Before I begin, I want to thank those professors who chose this speech among the outstanding collection of speeches written by my peers. I also thank all of my friends and peers who expressed their support for me and their anticipation of this speech. I am delighted to be with you at this graduation during this difficult, new “way of life.” I am particularly humbled by the honor bestowed on me to say something and share this amazing day with you!

Let me start by congratulating all of us graduates! Our hard work has culminated in this momentous occasion. No matter the many classes or schools we attend, a graduation ceremony remains one of the most memorable events in anybody’s life and comes at the end of a long journey of academic and social preparations. As I write this speech I find myself experiencing numerous conflicted emotions, which I am certain many of you here empathize with. First, I am filled with a great sense of happiness, gratitude and accomplishment. My colleagues and I have put forth much effort in the last few years to be able to say that we deserve to be here after surviving the very difficult time experienced around the world since the pandemic started. It was something not envisioned and seemed an insurmountable task, but we adapted and triumphed!

To utilize my business and financial training here at Binghamton University, I will give an analogy; the diploma you receive today is your insurance policy with the premium paid in full by your hard work over the last few years! The value of this policy depends on how much effort you put into your education and what you do with it as you continue after graduation.

Use it and take advantage of what it offers. Adapt, change and be open-minded as we progress forward in this strange, new world we now live in. Think of it as your passport on a path to higher earnings and protection against tough economic times. As with most things, this is not a guarantee, but it will always help. This diploma represents a public educational system within the SUNY network that ensures that all young students here in Binghamton, N.Y., and across the nation have access to the same experiences that have shaped you and me; a first-rate education and exposure to the diverse beliefs and traditions that drive an ever interdependent and complex world.

Take these experiences with you. Keep close to your fellow students, professors, family and friends you’ve made here at Binghamton University. Do well wherever you go or whatever you decide to do in your careers.

You’ve earned this life passport and all of the future stamps that will accumulate as you continue to learn and experience the world. Use it well! Again, congratulations to each of us and may we all succeed in the years ahead!

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

It seemed every adult gave us the same advice when we were going off to college: “Do your homework, participate in class and study hard.” While this was great advice, no one seemed to mention the most important aspect of college. Friends.

Being from upstate New York, where it’s brick six months of the year, everyone in my area intended to go off to school where it’s warm or simply just far away from their parents. That being said, I’m not sure how I ended up in Binghamton, just two hours away from my hometown! But the reality is, no matter where you are in the world, it means nothing without genuine people to experience it with.

I transferred to Binghamton my sophomore year from the University at Buffalo. When I arrived here, I would sit alone in the back of my classes — if I even went. Being on my own at a new school where everyone already had their friends from freshman year was troublesome. The feeling of being alone had a tremendous negative effect on my mental health and, as a result, my class attendance. I remember my differential equations professor would let us know there was going to be a quiz during the next class and I still would not show up. That semester I got a 2.5 GPA.

Fast forward to junior year. I really started to get to know my classmates for who they were, and I met the most amazing group of people. Any time I was thinking about skipping class, they would somehow always convince me to still go. Nights where I just did not want to do my homework or start that project, they would push me to get it done and offer to help in any way possible. I almost skipped a career fair that year until my best friends showed up at my door and said, “We’re doing this together.” That same career fair is where I landed my first internship. I remember pulling consecutive all-nighters in the library with this graduating class, completing the infamous project three. These kinds of experiences have made everyone here at Binghamton University feel like family to me. Just knowing you have amazing people in your corner who you can turn to for anything makes a world of difference. It’s because of all of you that my entire experience at this University changed. From my first semester barely in good academic standing, I ended up getting accepted into Binghamton’s accelerated master’s program.

It may feel like our time at Binghamton has flown by. However, I encourage you to really look back on the years you’ve spent here and remember all the sleepless nights, the bad grades you thought were the end of the world and every achievement you’ve ticked off along the way. Even your personal growth and appearance. I know when I first got to Binghamton, I was bald and 20 pounds lighter!

And if you ever feel like you can’t do something or that you aren’t enough, just look at where you are now. All the exams you thought you’d never pass, all the projects you thought you’d never finish and all the days you thought you’d never make it through; you did! I have nothing but full confidence this will hold true for anything you decide to do from this point forward. I thank every single person in this graduating class, and I want you to know that you have a friend in me, for life.

Dear Binghamton University faculty, staff, administrators, family, friends and graduates.

What an honor it is to be speaking with you today! I want to start by congratulating the Class of 2021!

Wow, these four years flew by! I remember the first day I moved onto the campus and how overwhelmed I felt. I hardly knew anyone, and the campus was so big, it terrified me. As I began classes, I started to familiarize myself with my peers and, thankfully, most of the first-year engineers lived together in the Mountainview College community.

We would soon realize how grateful we were to be neighbors when we would stay up until the crack of dawn getting ready for the Arduino competition. We were either trying to get our code to work or keeping our prototype stable to show it to the hundreds of people who would be at the Arduino Expo. And remember the reverse engineering project where we disassembled an entire appliance and had no idea how to put it back together? Some of them had so many pieces that we would stay as still as possible when taking them apart. As years went by, we were involved with so many organizations on campus and participated in a variety of programs.

All of these experiences have allowed us to teach each other along the way. We all bring unique perspectives to the table, and that is why we worked so well together and are taking this next step with each other. We were so eager to get involved and leave our mark on everything we did. We are trailblazers!

Through this pandemic, we managed to stay close and active, making a bond that is stronger than most student bodies in normal times, given the challenges we faced with the COVID-19 mandates. The pandemic proved that we are adaptable — similar to chameleons. We change our colors along the way to adjust to new environments.

After completing our degrees in this trying time, we all have realized our superpowers in some shape or form. In our first year, I vividly remember how stressed we were when deciding which type of engineering we would study over the next three years. Today, we’re getting accepted to graduate schools and receiving full-time offers from top, global companies. Binghamton University, and specifically the Thomas J. Watson College of Engineering and Applied Science, has gifted us the knowledge and resources we need to be successful. It is our time to go out into the world and apply what we learned to further our careers and teach the next generation.

Congratulations!

*Degree awarded summer 2020 | Degree awarded fall 2020 | Degree awarded winter 2021 | †Degree anticipated to be awarded after spring 2021
As we gather in celebration of graduation, I am humbled to address the faculty, staff, administrators, students, family members and guests here today. I am certain that I haven’t met all of my fellow students, but I hope you remember me by the story that I’m so grateful to share with you.

Coming to Binghamton University, one of my first struggles was teaching my Haitian family how to properly say the name of our school. You wouldn’t believe the different versions of Binghamton I got from them! Also, I absolutely had no clue that the institution is regarded as the “public ivy” until I arrived. Why didn’t anyone tell me?

At the earliest stages of my college career, I found myself feeling very unworthy of my accomplishments and education. Being one of the “only (insert personal identifier)” in your classes can be very intimidating, and in my case, I fell silent in engineering classes as my thoughts convinced me that, somehow, I would say the wrong answer and feel instant humiliation. Then I would watch one of my classmates say exactly what I was thinking in my head, and it would usually be the correct answer!

To overcome my imposter syndrome took an immense amount of work and is still an uphill battle today. Most of my self-work actually didn’t take place in the Engineering Design Division (EDD) Lab, when I would be there way past library hours completing a MATLAB assignment. It all started when I declared a minor in theatre and took my first dance class at Binghamton. Now, you may be wondering why in the world would an engineering student step foot in a dance class? Well, first, you cannot make it to this ceremony without fulfilling gen-eds, and second, I have been a dancer from a young age and will always be wherever I go.

Stepping into my element allowed me to find my place at Binghamton. By allowing myself to forget dance moves onstage, I simultaneously gained the confidence to be vulnerable in the classroom. I went from sending emails with all of my questions to unmuting myself as often as I needed to understand the material. I started showing up more to student organizations and taking on leadership positions on campus. But don’t be fooled — I made many mistakes along the way, didn’t always get accepted and received an abundance of blessings.

The truth is, you can only learn from your mistakes, not from perfection.

And while this is only one small aspect of my story, I hope it helps each student realize that you are enough — just as you are and where you are — here at Binghamton University’s 2021 Commencement. Always remember that you add value to every room you step into and every Zoom meeting you join, just by being there. So, like one of my mentors always tells me, show up in the ways that you can and be heard. You cannot be heard if you stop talking.

Binghamton University opened its doors as Triple Cities College in 1946 to serve the needs of local veterans returning from service in World War II. Originally located in Endicott, five miles west of the present campus, the fledgling school was a branch of Syracuse University. Four years later, when the college was incorporated into the State University of New York, it was renamed Harpur College in honor of Robert Harpur, a Colonial teacher, patriot and pioneer who devoted his later years to settling the area around Binghamton.

Until 1953, Harpur College was one of only two public liberal arts colleges in the state. In 1961, the campus was moved across the Susquehanna River to Vestal. Growing enrollment and a reputation for excellence soon led to the selection of Harpur College as one of four doctorate-granting university centers in the state system. In 1965, the campus was formally designated the State University of New York at Binghamton. Binghamton University was adopted as its informal name in 1992.

Today, Binghamton University is known for the excellence of its students, faculty, staff and programs, and enrolls more than 18,000 students in programs leading to bachelor’s, master’s and doctoral degrees. More than 14,200 students are undergraduates and more than 3,700 are graduate students. Its curriculum, founded on the liberal arts, has expanded to include selected professional and graduate programs, including the new Doctor of Pharmacy (PharmD) program launched in fall 2017, which is graduating its inaugural cohort this year.

The University offers more than 100 major degree programs across its academic divisions and is recognized as the most selective and prestigious university in the SUNY system. College guides such as the Fiske Guide to Colleges have dubbed Binghamton a “premier public university in the Northeast.”

Students actively take part in internships, education-abroad programs, honors programs, Division I athletics and many of the 450+ student organizations on campus. They enjoy attractive, comfortable living-and-learning residences, and they give faculty high marks for being approachable and inspirational.

Binghamton’s faculty and students come from more than 100 countries, bringing with them many different cultures and backgrounds and representing a wealth of ideas. It has an excellent research library, outstanding computer facilities, a superb performing arts center, a teaching greenhouse, a 190-acre Nature Preserve, an Events Center and more.

Binghamton is a highly regarded research university, yet, at the same time, is as accessible as a smaller school. Retention is well above national averages, and more undergraduates are admitted into nationally ranked, rigorous graduate programs than is the norm nationally for public research universities.
The shapes, colors and trim of gowns, hoods and caps indicate the academic degree, the school granting the degree and the subject of study. The higher the degree, the more elaborate the costume. Gowns are distinguished by the shape of the sleeves. Bachelors’ gowns have pointed sleeves, masters’ have sleeves cut square at the back and doctors’ gowns also have velvet facing and three velvet bars on the sleeves that are either black or a color indicating the degree: dark blue for philosophy; light blue for education; golden yellow for science; pink for music; orange for engineering; brown for fine arts; white for arts, letters and humanities; olive green for pharmacy; and copper for economics.

Hoods are distinguished by length, lined with the official color(s) of the conferring institution and trimmed with a color indicating the subject in which the degree is granted. Blue and gold, the color of the State University of New York, are in the hoods of all those who will receive a doctorate today, including honorary degree recipients.

The cap or mortarboard is black, with a long tassel that may be black or the color appropriate to the subject. Only doctors’ caps may have a tassel of gold thread. It is customary for graduates to move tassels from right to left after degrees are conferred.
International Flags

Binghamton University attracts students and scholars from across New York state, the country and the world. The international flags that hang in the Events Center during Commencement ceremonies and at other venues on campus during the academic year represent the more than 100 nations our students hail from. Flown since Commencement 1997, these flags are an important visual reminder that Binghamton University's strength lies in its people who represent a great variety of cultures, backgrounds and ideas.

The University Mace

A gift of the Class of 1993, the University mace represents the magisterial authority of the University as an institution of higher learning. Such symbols go far back into antiquity, their use proclaiming the power of the holder. Today, the mace stands for the pre-eminence of the world of knowledge.

Professor John Thomson of the Department of Art and Design undertook the commission by the Class of 1993 for the University mace. Nearly three feet long, it is made of hand-turned, polished walnut. The spherical head has two inset cast-bronze facets in the shape of medallions. One bears the seal of Binghamton University. The other carries a high-relief rendering of Pegasus, the flying horse of Greek mythology, which as a part of the seal symbolizes the University’s aspirations for its future.

COVID-19 GUIDELINES
Remain at least 6 feet apart from others at all times. Do not remove your mask while in the Events Center or on campus. Plan to meet your graduate off campus after the Grad Walk; there is no gathering permitted in or around the Events Center as we must prepare for the next group of graduates.

CONCESSIONS
Food and drink are not permitted in the Events Center.

EMERGENCIES
Police and emergency medical staff are on site. An EMS station is located on the concourse level of the Events Center. If you need assistance, contact the closest usher. (Ushers can be identified by their volunteer name badges.) In the event of a fire alarm, the building’s emergency horns and strobes will be activated. Guests should carefully exit the building through the nearest exit. Be aware that the closest exit may not be through the same doors through which you entered the building. Ushers will assist in the orderly evacuation of the building.

LISTING OF GRADUATES
Inclusion in the program does not constitute evidence of completion of degree or honors requirements. Students who filed a Spring 2021 Application for Degree or Graduate Application for Degree with the University’s Student Records Office by March 25 are guaranteed to be in the program. Those filed after the deadline may or may not appear, depending on the date of submission. Recognition of Latin honors is based on the grade-point average at the end of the previous semester. In-progress courses are not included.

LOST CHILD
In the event any children have been separated from their family, immediately notify the nearest Events Center staff member or police officer who will attend to the lost child. Event staff members will be wearing a black polo and a name tag.

PHONES
Guests are asked to silence cell phones for the duration of the ceremony. Your cooperation is greatly appreciated.

PHOTOGRAPHY
So that all may enjoy the majesty and joy of the occasion, we ask guests to refrain from approaching the stage to take pictures during the ceremony. Photographers from GradImages will be photographing our graduates as they cross the stage. For information on how to order prints, visit www.gradimages.com.

RESTROOMS
Restrooms are located on the east and west sides of the Events Center concourse.

SOCIAL MEDIA
For pictures and ceremony information, follow Binghamton University on Facebook, Instagram, Twitter and Snapchat.

IN THE ROLLING HILLS OF BINGHAMTON

Words by Xin Engel, music by David Engel ’86, arrangement by Daniel Fabricius

In the rolling hills of Binghamton
’Neath everchanging skies
Where two gently flowing rivers meet,
We form our cherished ties.

Together we spend these years,
United in our aim.
Through our bold pursuit of excellence,
We proudly bear your name.

Chorus:
O Binghamton, we carry thee
With us for all our time
And through us individually
Forever may you shine.
