I. Research Working Groups

We have had nine groups active this year.

a) Cyclical Rhythms and Secular Trends of the World-Economy

This group is now writing up its research on the two commodity chains of cereal flour and shipbuilding for the period 1590-1790 in the European world-economy. This is an NSF-funded project.

The earlier work of this group on "incorporation of new zones into the world-economy" has appeared as a special issue of Review, X, 5/6 (Supplement), Summer/Fall, 1987. The study compares the process of incorporation of three such zones: the Caribbean (1650-1690); the Ottoman Empire (1793-1815); southern Africa (1873-1913).

b) Households, Labor Force Formation, and the World-Economy

This group is now writing up its research on a comparison of changing household structures in eight sites in three "regions" of the world-economy (U.S., Mexico, southern Africa), over the period 1870-1970. This is an NEH-funded project.

Immanuel Wallerstein and Joan Smith presented the research perspective of this group to a session of the American Sociology Association's Annual Meetings in Chicago, August 21, 1987 in a session on "Family and Gender in Comparative Perspective," co-sponsored by the ASA Sections on Family and on Sex and Gender. This paper will appear in a book edited by Jetse Sprey, Theorizing about the Family.

c) World Labor

This group has reached a mid-point in its work, having arrived at interim findings which were highly original. In the fall of 1987, the group convened in Binghamton on Oct. 9 a small group of "experts" on research on workers' strikes and social unrest in various parts of the world. They were Jeffery M. Paige, Professor of Sociology at the Univ. of Michigan, Sidney Tarrow, Professor of Political Science at Cornell Univ., and Charles Tilly, Professor of History and Sociology at the New School for Social Research. The object was to sharpen both the theoretical forms and the methodology of the project in the light of their criticisms.
The group has continued its activities of scholarly exchange with the Institute of International Labour Studies of the U.S.S.R. Academy of Sciences under the aegis of the ACLS-Academy of Sciences Bilateral Commission. A colloquium to discuss results of parallel research results on labor protest was held in Moscow in December, 1987. Eight persons from the Center attended the colloquium. Within the framework of this exchange, two of our participants, Giovanni Arrighi and Beverly Silver, spent a month in the U.S.S.R. prior to the colloquium, and reciprocally Sergei Mikhailov, of the Institute in Moscow, spent a month with us in January-February 1988. Finally, a special one-day colloquium was held in New York City on February 22 on "The World-Economy, Civilizations, and Perestroikas." This was co-sponsored by the Center and the Graduate Faculty of Political and Social Sciences, New School for Social Research. The principal Soviet participants were Academician Abel Aganbegyan, Director of the Institute of Economics and Timur Timofeev, Director of the Institute of the International Labour Movement.

d) Southern Africa and the World-Economy

The research of this group focuses on the limits and possibilities of major political actors in the southern African region from 1965 to the year 2000. This work is being done in collaboration with the Centro de Estudos Africanos of the Univ. Eduardo Mondlane in Mozambique.

The group has suffered a deep personal loss (as well as an intellectual setback) in the death of the Director of the CEA-UEM, Aquino de Bragança, who was the direct leader of this particular project on the Mozambique side. He was killed in an aircrash along with Pres. Samora Machel of Mozambique and others. To renew the collaboration, the new Director of the CEA, Sergio Vieira, accompanied by the continuing Associate Director, Mota Lopes, visited the Center on November 5-8, 1987 for discussions with our RWG. In return, the coordinators of this project at the FBC, Immanuel Wallerstein and William G. Martin, visited Maputo from January 17-23, 1988 to meet with the group at the CEA and to participate in an international colloquium. A meeting to discuss research findings is projected for Binghamton for October 26-27, 1988. This project has been funded by the Ford Foundation, who have extended the previous grant (because of the special circumstances).

e) Ottoman Empire and the World-Economy

The Research Working Group has been continuing its research on the economic transformations of the eastern Mediterranean between 1840-1920 and the political consequences of these transformations.

On May 22-24, 1987 the Center co-sponsored a colloquium on "Peripheral European Economies, 18th-20th Centuries," in Szirák, Hungary. The co-sponsors were the Institute of History, Hungarian Academy of Sciences; the Center for Neohellenic Research of the National Hellenic Research Foundation (Athens); and the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme (Paris).

Immanuel Wallerstein and Çağlar Keyder gave papers at this meeting, which was part of an on-going cooperative relationship (and prospective joint research project) of the four centers. The next colloquium will be held in Athens probably in 1989.
We record at this time our deep sorrow at the sudden and unexpected death in January, 1988 of György Bánki, Director of the Institute of History of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences, and organizer of the Szirák colloquium. He was our friend and collaborator, a great scholar and a most humane person.

The group also sponsored a panel at the annual meeting of the Middle East Studies Association, in Baltimore, on Nov. 14-17, 1987. The session was chaired by Caglar Keyder and entitled "Port Cities in the Eastern Mediterranean during the Nineteenth Century" and included the following papers:

A. Üner Turgay, "Trabzon in the Nineteenth Century: Economic Development and Social Change in an Ottoman Port City"
Elena Frangakis-Syrett, "The Port City of Patras in the Nineteenth Century"
Reşat Kasaba, "Riding the Crest of the Long Waves: İzmir, 1815-1915"
Yaşar Eyyüp Ozveren, "The Making of a Levantine City: Beirut in the Nineteenth Century"

This Research Working Group has also been sponsoring biannual conferences with the Southwest Asian/ North African Studies Program (SWANA) at SUNY-Binghamton. The first conference was held in 1984 on the theme, "The Ottoman Empire and the World-Economy." Its papers are being published in Review, XI, 2, Spring 1988. The second conference was held in 1986, on the theme, "Large-Scale Commercial Agriculture in the Ottoman Empire." Its papers are currently being edited for publication as a book. The third conference is scheduled for October 7-8, 1988 on the theme, "The Impact of 1838: Anatolia and Egypt Compared." It is supported by a small grant from the Institute of Turkish Studies.

In addition, the Center was a co-sponsor with SWANA of a colloquium on "Syria: The Society, Culture, and Polity of a Complex Middle Eastern Nation" on April 22-23, 1988. The program was as follows:

Changes in Syrian Society

Hussam al-Khateeb (Univ. of Damascus), "The Changing Syrian Family as Reflected in Twentieth Century Literature"
Emad Tinawi (Rutgers Univ), "The Changing Role of Teachers in Syrian Society"

Solidarities and Cleavages in Syrian Society

Fuad Khuri (American Univ. of Beirut), "The Ethnic and Religious Composition of Syrian Society: The Alawis"
Raymond A. Hinnebusch (The College of St. Catherine), "State and Class in Syria"
Sulayman N. Khalaf (Kuwait Univ.), "Land Reform, Modern Education, and Class Structure in Rural Syria"

Keynote Address

Philip S. Khoury (Massachusetts Institute of Technology), "Syrian Political Culture, 1860-1960: An Historian's Perspective"
The State and Inter-State Relations

Patrick Seale (London), "Political Leadership in Syria"
Yahya Sadowski (The Brookings Institution), "Constraints on Policy-Making in Syria"
Helena Cobban (The Brookings Institution), "Syria's Relations with the Soviet Union"

Round Table Discussion

Alasdair Drysdale (Univ. of New Hampshire)
Peter Gran (Temple Univ.)
Moshe Mabz (Hebrew Univ.)
Patrick Seale (London)
and audience

f) Other RWG's

There are four other RWG's, all relatively new, all in the process of finding their way: the India-China RWG, the Social Sciences and Social Movements RWG, the Business Enterprise in the Capitalist World-Economy RWG, and the Latin America RWG.

g) Colloquia Series

In order to increase the intellectual coherence of the work of the Center, we have inaugurated an internal Colloquium to which are invited all those active in one of the Research Working Groups. These colloquia are designed to address intellectual questions concerning world-systems analysis and deal with issues at the cutting-point of current research. The list of colloquia held in 1987-88 is as follows:

Sept. 23, 1987: Giovanni Arrighi, "Does the nineteenth century exist?"
Oct. 21, 1987: Immanuel Wallerstein, "Can anyone at all develop?"
Nov. 11, 1987: Terence K. Hopkins, "Is there anyone else out there besides us capitalists?"

II. Other Conferences and Colloquia

a) IXth International Colloquium on the World-Economy

These colloquia are regularly co-sponsored by the Center, the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme, and the Starnberger Institut (F.R. Germany). The IXth was held in Cairo, February 11-13, 1988 on the theme "The Arab World, the Middle East, and the World-System." The local co-sponsors were the Arab Thought Forum (Amman), the Institute of Diplomatic Studies (Cairo), and the Third World Forum (Cairo). The colloquium received support from the United Nations University (Tokyo) and the World Institute of Development Economics Research (Helsinki). The Xth Colloquium is scheduled to take place in Brasilia in August, 1989 on the theme, "The World Financial Crisis."
b) U.S.-French Colloquia

The first colloquium was held in Binghamton in 1985. The second was held in Paris on June 9-10, 1988. The theme was "Processes of Proletarianization in the World-Economy." The French sponsor was GEMDEV, a federation of 36 research centers and doctoral programs from 12 universities in the Paris area which work in the domain of "World Economy, Third World, Development." Its President is Michel Beaud (Univ. Paris-VII). The Center sent 7 persons to participate. There were a somewhat larger number of French participants, plus a few selected others from the Netherlands, Senegal, and Brazil.

As after the first colloquium, the majority of the papers will be published in two Cahiers du GEMDEV. They are Nos. 8 & 9 scheduled to appear in Oct. 1988.

The table of contents are as follows:

No. 8: Salarisation, régime d'accumulation et économie mondiale

Michel Beaud, Présentation
Immanuel Wallerstein, Introduction
Melvyn Dubofsky (FBC), "A New Look at the Original Case: To What Extent was the U.S. Fordist?"
Benjamin Coriat (Univ. Paris VII), with Joao Saboia, "Régime d'accumulation et rapport salarial au Brésil"
Phillipe Hugon (Paris X), "La crise du processus de salarisation et l'économie duale"
Giovanni Arrighi & Beverly J. Silver (FBC), "Global Patterns of Labor Movements"
Henri Nadel (Paris VII), "Economie politique de la violence révolutionnaire et prolétarisation dans la théorie marxienne"

No. 9: Salarisation, emploi, formation et économie mondiale

Peter Grou (Paris X), "Les implantations industrielles des 500 premières firmes multinationales: tripolarisation ou multipolarisation de l'économie mondiale?"
Wladimir Andreff (Grenoble), "Les multinationales et le chômage"
Michel Beaud (Paris VII), "Les difficultés d'une politique de plein emploi dans les années 1980"
Michel Vernières (Paris I), "Le rôle stratégique de la formation dans la dynamique de l'économie mondiale"
Çağlar Keyder (FBC), "State and Semiproletarianization: The Absence of Working-Class Politics in the Periphery"
Terence K. Hopkins & Mark Selden (FBC), "Socialist Proletarianization?"

These Cahiers are available from GEMDEV, 9 rue Malher, 75004 Paris, France. The cost is 50F each plus postage. For those who prefer to pay in U.S. dollars, the cost is $10 each and must be sent to the Fernand Braudel Center (not GEMDEV).
c) Political Economy of the World-System (PEWS) Conferences

The papers of the XIth Conference, which was held at SUNY-Binghamton, will appear shortly as a volume in the PEWS series published by Greenwood Press. It is edited by Joan Smith, Jane Collins, Terence K. Hopkins, & Akbar Muhammad, and entitled "Racism, Sexism, and the World-System."

The XIIth Conference was held at Emory University on March 24-26, 1988. The theme was "War and Revolution in the World-System." Giovanni Arrighi, Terence K. Hopkins, & Immanuel Wallerstein presented a joint paper, "1968: The Great Rehearsal." It is available upon request. It will appear in a volume to be edited by Terry Boswell.

The XIIIth PEWS Conference will be held at the Univ. of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign on April 13-15, 1989. The theme will be "The Semiperiphery: In-Between or In Transition?" Papers are being solicited for the following broad themes:

- Semiperiphery or Core? The Canadian Model
- Socialist Semiperipheral States?
- Semiperipheral Success Stories? East Asian and Latin American NICs.
- Divergent Trajectories in Europe's Outer Rim?
- Ethnically-Divided Semiperipheries: Are They Different?
- Peripheral or Semiperipheral? The Cases of India and China

One page abstracts of paper proposals should be sent by October 1, 1988 to William Martin, PEWS XIII Coordinator, Sociology Department, Univ. of Illinois, 326 Lincoln Hall, 702 S. Wright Street, Urbana, IL 61801.

d) Panel on Fernand Braudel, Southern Historical Association

The Center organized, at its request, a special panel for the meetings of the Southern Historical Association in New Orleans, on Nov. 11-14, 1987. The panel was entitled "Fernand Braudel: An Appreciation." Three papers were offered:

- Maurice Aymard (Maison des Sciences de l'Homme), "The Evolution of Braudel's Historiography"
- Steven Kaplan (Cornell Univ.), "Long-Run Lamentations: Braudel on France"
- Immanuel Wallerstein, "Braudel on Capitalism, or Everything Upside Down" (available upon request)

e) Social Science Education Consortium

Its annual conference was held on July 21-23, 1988 at SUNY-Binghamton, co-sponsored by the Center. The theme was "History, Social Sciences, and Social Studies." The program was as follows: I. Immanuel Wallerstein (FBC), "Development of World-Systems Studies"

Reactors: Raymond English (Ethics and Public Policy Center, Washington, DC) & Fred Newmann (Univ. of Wisconsin at Madison)

II. Philip Wexler, (Univ. of Rochester), "New Configurations of Knowledge in the Social Sciences"
III. Alternative Paradigms within the Social Sciences

Suzanne Helburn (Univ. of Colorado at Denver), "Two Traditions in Economics: Implications for Teaching U.S. and World History"
Lee Anderson (Northwestern Univ.), "Alternative Paradigms in Teaching about the Social Structure of the World"

IV. William H. McNeill (Emeritus Professor of History, Univ. of Chicago), "History As An Imperial Discipline, or A Wolf Among the Social Science Sheep"

V. The Relation of History, the Social Sciences, and the Social Studies

Mary Hepburn (Univ. of Georgia), "I Get Deja Vue When I Read You, Mr. Hirsch"
Thomas Gregory Ward (National Endowment for the Humanities), "History, the Social Sciences, the Humanities, and Cultural Literacy: The World and American History Survey Courses"
James Davis & Sharryl Davis Hawke (Boulder, Colorado), "Elementary Social Studies: Throwing out the Baby with the Bath Water"

VI. Melvyn Dubofsky (FBC), "The Fernand Braudel Center: Integrating History and the Social Sciences"

f) Colloquium: "The Long Wave Debate"

The Center is co-sponsoring this international colloquium with the Vrije Universiteit Brussel, the Univ. of Maastricht, and the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme. The Colloquium will be held at the Vrije Universiteit Brussel from Jan. 12-14, 1989. This will be the third such conference co-sponsored by the Center. The first was the International Round Table on Long Waves, held in Paris in 1983. The second was the International Workshop on Technological and Social Factors in Long-Term Fluctuations, held in Siena in 1986.

The tentative schedule of the Conference is as follows:

THE LONG WAVE DEBATE: Theorizing about long-run innovation, profit rates, regulation, and the labour movement.

Day 1: ECONOMIC LONG WAVES AND INNOVATION
(Organizer Alfred Kleinknecht)

"Technical and social change and long waves: Global perspectives"
(Introductory lecture)
Christopher Freeman (Univ. of Sussex and Maastricht Economic Research Institute on Innovation and Technology, MERIT)

"Critical remarks about the existence of long waves and innovation waves"
Solomos Solomou (Univ. of Cambridge, UK)
Discussant: Alfred Kleinknecht (Rijksuniversiteit Limburg, Netherlands)

"An econometric re-examination of long waves in 11 aggregate production series, using new filtering techniques"
Rainer Metz (Univ. of Köln, FRG)
Discussant: Paul Lowenthal (Université Louvain-la-Neuve, Belgium)
"Econometric tests on long waves in price and volume series from 16 countries"
Hans Jürgen Gerster (Univ. of Aachen, FRG)
Discussant: Ernest Mandel (Vrije Universiteit Brussel)

"Long-run patterns of technology diffusion and substitution: the IIASA research"
Arnulf Grubler/Nebosja Nakicenović (International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis, Laxenburg, Austria)
Discussant: Jules Hannes (Vrije Universiteit Brussel)

"Innovation and institutional change"
Rod W. Coombs (University of Manchester Institute for Science and Technology, UK)
Discussant: Isabelle Cassiers (Université Catholique de Louvain)

Day 2: PROFIT RATES, SOCIAL STRUCTURE, AND LONG WAVES
(Organizer: Ernest Mandel)

"A model of long-run profit rates for the United States"
Anwar Shaik (New School for Social Research, New York)
Discussant: Gérard Roland (Université Libre de Bruxelles)

"Long waves in profit rates of four countries"
Andrey Poletayev (Institute for World Economy and International Relations, Moscow, USSR)
Discussant: Angelo Reati (Commission of the European Communities, Brussels)

"Long-run profit rates and their determinants: French results"
Louis Fontvieille (Université de Montpellier, France)
Discussant: Piet Frantzen (Vrije Universiteit Brussel)

"Accumulation regimes, lower turning points and exogeneity of long waves"
Alain Lipietz (CEPREMAP, Paris, France)
Discussant: Dirk Frantzen (Vrije Universiteit Brussel)

"Social structure of accumulation and the problem of endogeneity of long waves"
David M. Gordon (New School of Social Research, New York)
Discussant: Louis Fontvieille (Université de Montpellier)

"On exogenous and endogenous factors in the long wave"
Stanislav Menshikov (Prague, CSSR)
Discussant: Giovanni Arrighi (Fernand Braudel Center)

Day 3: LONG WAVES AND THE LABOUR MOVEMENT
(Organizer: Immanuel Wallerstein)

"Wars, hegemonic wars, and long waves"
Joshua Goldstein (Univ. of Southern California)
Discussant: Immanuel Wallerstein (Fernand Braudel Center)
"Labour unrest in the world-economy: Cyclical rhythms and secular trends"
Beverly J. Silver (Fernand Braudel Center)
Discussant: Bart Verspagen (Rijksuniversiteit Limburg, Netherlands)

"Long waves and strike movements"
Giorgio Gattei (University of Bologna, Italy)
Discussant: Ernesto Screpanti (University of Trento, Italy)

Final Roundtable: TRYING TO PUT THINGS TOGETHER
Ernest Mandel, Alfred Kleinknecht, and Immanuel Wallerstein

Persons who wish to participate should write Alfred Kleinknecht, Faculty of Economics R.L., P.O. Box 616, NL-6200 MD Maastricht, Netherlands.

g) Colloquium with IMEMO

The Center has agreed with IMEMO, the Institute of the World Economy and International Relations, of the U.S.S.R. Academy of Sciences to hold a seminar in 1989 in Moscow on "Secular Trends and Long-Term Cycles of the World-System." This will also be under the aegis of the U.S.-U.S.S.R. Bilateral Commission.

h) Special lectures

The Director gave two special lectures, available upon request:

2) Trilateral Lecture, Royal Geographical Society, Institute of British Geographers, Geographic Association, April 6, 1988, London: "The Invention of TimeSpace Realities: Toward an Understanding of our Historical Systems"

III. Publications.

a) Review. The contents of Volume XI, 1988 have been:

XL, 1, Winter 1988

DEVELOPMENT DEBATE

Dieter Senghaas
European Development and the Third World: An Assessment

Samir Amin
Comment on Senghaas

ESSAY-REVIEWS

Ferenc Fehér
The Sphinx of the Revolution

Aquino de Bragança & Jacques Depelchin
From the Idealization of Frelimo to the Understanding of Mozambique Recent History
XI, 2, Spring 1988

Ottoman Empire: Nineteenth-Century Transformations
Çağlar Keyder, Special Editor

Çağlar Keyder
Introduction

Part I: Perspectives on Method

Şevket Pamuk
The Ottoman Empire in Comparative Perspective

Çağlar Keyder
Bureaucracy and Bourgeoisie: Reform and Revolution in the Age of Imperialism

Part II: Processes of Incorporation

Donald Quataert
Ottoman Handicrafts and Industry in the Age of European Industrial Hegemony, 1800-1914

Faruk Tabak
Local Merchants in Peripheral Areas of the Empire: The Fertile Crescent during the Long Nineteenth Century

Reşat Kasaba
Was There a Comprador Bourgeoisie in Mid-Nineteenth Century Western Anatolia?

Part III: Imperial Designs and War

Kostas Vergopoulos
La "Grande Dépression" européenne et la crise d'Orient, 1875-1900

Rashid I. Khalidi
The Economic Partition of the Arab Provinces of the Ottoman Empire before the First World War

Feroz Ahmad
War and Society under the Young Turks, 1908-18

XI, 3, Summer 1988

Peter Waterman
The New Internationalisms: A More Real Thing Than Big, Big Coke?

Cyrus Bina
Internationalization of the Oil Industry: Simple Oil Shocks or Structural Crisis?
METHODOLOGY OF LONG CYCLES: A DEBATE

James B. Taylor
Long Waves in Six Nations: Results and Speculations from a New Methodology

Howard Brill
Stepwise Polynomial Regression: Royal Road or Detour?

James B. Taylor
The Trouble with Cycles: A Reply to Brill

XI, 4, Fall 1988

Samuel Bowles
Class Analysis versus World-Systems? Epitaph for a False Opposition

Joseph Love
Theorizing Underdevelopment: Latin America and Romania, 1860's-1940's

Nicole Bousquet
The Decolonization of Spanish America: A World-Systems Approach

Mark Selden
City Versus Countryside? The Social Consequences of Development Choices in China

Peter J. Taylor
Alternative Geography: A Supportive Note on Arrighi and Drangel

Immanuel Wallerstein
Typology of Crises in the World-System

b) Cambridge Series

The series, Studies in Modern Capitalism, continues to be published by Cambridge Univ. Press. Titles published this year are:

Huri İslamoğlu-Inan, ed., The Ottoman Empire and the World-Economy

IV. Visiting Research Associates

Rosemary Galli, April-August 1987, Associate Professor of Social Sciences, Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa and consultant for UNIFEM in Africa

Shen Tzong-Ruey, August-September 1987, College of the Humanities and Social Sciences, National Tsing Hua Univ., Taiwan

Louis Fontvieille, October-November 1987, Centre Régional de la Productivité et des Etudes Economiques, Univ. of Montpellier-I, France
V. Public Speakers

September 21, 1987: William McNeill, Robert A. Millikan Distinguished Service Professor of History, Univ. of Chicago, "The Caravan Transport System," co-sponsored by Dept. of History and the Harpur College Distinguished Speakers Program

October 8, 1987: Jeffery Paige, Sociology, Univ. of Michigan, "The Agrarian Bourgeoisie in Central America," co-sponsored by Dept. of History

October 22, 1987: Benjamin Beit-Hallahmi, Univ. of Haifa, "Israeli Involvement in the Third World: From Iran-Contra to South Africa," co-sponsored by Palestine Solidarity Committee

October 27, 1987: Louis Fontvieille, Centre Regional de la Productivité et des Etudes Economiques, Univ. de Montpellier, "Regulation Theory, Long Waves, and Changes in Production Relations"

November 4, 1987: Christiane Klapsich-Zuber, Centre de Recherches Historiques, Paris, "Girls' Names and Boys' Names in Renaissance Florence," co-sponsored by Dept. of History, Women's Studies Program, CEMERS, Dean of Arts and Sciences

November 9, 1987: Atilio Boron, Director, EURAL, Buenos Aires, "Argentina: Democratization at the Crossroads," co-sponsored by LACAS, LASU, LASC

November 17, 1987: André Nouschi, Univ. of Nice, "Prelude to Colonization: North Africa, 1571-1830"
November 19, 1987: Raymond Jubrin, advisor to the Israeli Ministry of Economy and Planning, "Development of the Arab Sector in Israel," co-sponsored by Jewish Student Union, ISFI, SWANA, Judaic Studies Dept., Sociology

January 21, 1988: Abigail Solomon-Godeau, photography critic and historian, "From Transgression to Resistance: The 'Illicit' Female Body," co-sponsored by Art Gallery, Art History GSU, Graduate Program in History and Theory of Art and Architecture, Women's Studies Program, Comparative Literature, Women's Research Group, GSO.

January 25, 1988: Abdelhay Moudden, Political Science, Mohammed V Univ., Rabat, Morocco, "Change and Continuity in the Moroccan Political System," co-sponsored by SWANA

March 1, 1988: Cesar Chavez, President, United Farm Workers, "The Grape Boycott to Stop Pesticide Poisoning," co-sponsored by Graduate History Organization, SA, GSO

March 29, 1988: Peter Waterman, Institute of Social Studies, The Hague; editor, Newsletter of International Labour Studies, "The Old Internationalisms and the New"

May 5, 1988: Enzo Mingione, Sociology, Univ. of Messina, "Coping with Socialism: The Sociology of the Second Economy"

CORRECTION TO NEWSLETTER NO. 11, 1986-87. The Department of Afro-American and African Studies was inadvertently left off the list of sponsors for the lecture of Ngugi Wa Thiong'o on October 9, 1986. The Department was the organizer of the lecture.