FRIDAY, APRIL 28
OPENING REMARKS: Atlantic Landscapes
9 - 9:30 A.M.
Christopher R. DeCorse (Syracuse University)
9:30 - 10 A.M.
Matthew H. Johnson (Northwestern University)
1492: A Different Kind of “Discovery”
PANEL I: Contact and Colonialism in the Americas
10 - 10:30 A.M.
Guido Pezzarossi (Syracuse University)
Colonial Frictions: Maya Knowledges, Infrastructures, and Emergent Colonial Assemblages in Highland Guatemala
10:45 - 11:15 A.M.
Kathryn Sampeck (Illinois State University)
Early Modern Landscapes of Chocolate: The Case of Tacuscalco
11:15 - 11:45 A.M.
Andrew Martindale (University of British Columbia)
Stories of the Ghost People: European-Indigenous Contact on the Northwest Coast of North America
1:30 - 2 P.M.
Erik R. Seeman (University of Buffalo)
Graveyards as Landscapes of Power in the Early Modern Atlantic World
PANEL II: Caribbean Landscapes
2 - 2:30 P.M.
Corinne Hofman (Leiden University)
A Deep History of Indigenous Caribbean Networks: Changing Social, Cultural, Political, and Economical Relationships in a Globalizing World
2:30 - 3 P.M.
Douglas Armstrong (Syracuse University)
Early Seventeenth-Century Settlement in Barbados and the Shift to Sugar, Slavery, and Capitalism
3:15 - 3:45 P.M.
Christopher Kurt Waters (Syracuse University)
The Indefensible: Power Dynamics, Social Relations, and Antigua’s Eighteenth-Century Defense Landscape
3:45 - 4:15 P.M.
Dale Tomich (Binghamton University)
The Space of Time: Mapping the Cuban Sugar Frontier in the Nineteenth Century
DISCUSSION 4:15 – 4:30 P.M.
SATURDAY, APRIL 29
PANEL III: West African Intersections
9 - 9:30 A.M.
Christopher R. DeCorse (Syracuse University)
Atlantic Slavery, African Landscapes: Change and Transformation in the Era of the Atlantic World
9:30 - 10 A.M.
Gérard Chouin (College of William and Mary)
Crisis and Transformation in the ‘Slave Rivers’ at the Dawn of the Atlantic trade
10 - 10:30 A.M.
Kenneth Kelly (University of South Carolina, Columbia)
Nineteenth-Century Coastal Guinea: Unusual Manifestations of the “Illegal” Slave Trade in a Local System
PANEL IV: East African and Asian Landscapes
10:45 - 11:15 A.M.
Martin S. Shanguhyia (Syracuse University)
Taming Nature: The Political Economy of Wildlife Conservation in Early Colonial East Africa
11:15 - 11:45 A.M.
Mark Hauser (Northwestern University)
Huge Oceans, Small Comparisons: Danish Forts and Their Enclaves in the Indian and Atlantic Oceans
1:30 - 2 P.M.
Rahul Oka (University of Notre Dame)
From Peripheral Actors to Global Masters: African and Asian Perspectives on Europeans in the Western Indian Ocean, 1500–1900 CE
CLOSING REMARKS
2 - 2:30 P.M.
Peter J. Taylor (Northumbria University)
DISCUSSION 2:30 – 4 P.M.
ALL SESSIONS Tau BEARCAT CLUBROOM, EVENTS CENTER, BINGHAMTON UNIVERSITY.
*Image Courtesy of the John Carter Brown Library at Brown University