

Doctoral students who have been admitted to candidacy are eligible to apply for the Rosa Colecchio Travel Award for Dissertation Research Enhancement, which is funded through an endowment established by the family of Rosa Romano Colecchio with the Binghamton University Foundation. The travel award must enhance the dissertation in a way that would not be accomplished otherwise. Supported activities may include travel for research dependent upon: library materials not obtainable through regular channels; archival materials; other original source materials; techniques, equipment, and methodologies not available on this campus; or opportunities to carry out extraordinary field research. This program cannot be used for travel to a professional meeting.

Name: _____ B#: _____
Last First M.I.

Program: _____

Email Address: _____

Title of Dissertation: _____

Date Admitted to Candidacy: _____

Travel Destination: _____

Requested Start Date: _____ Duration of Project: _____

Total Funding Requested: _____

Other Sources of Dissertation Funding: _____

Project Description:

Attach a brief summary of your project, including information on how the requested travel will enhance the dissertation as originally proposed. Proposed project must be in compliance with Graduate School and University policies, e.g., committee approval, human subjects research review and approval, etc. If you need additional space, please attach a document with the completed form.

Budget:

Provide budget detail and justification for items requested, such as domestic or foreign travel and per diem, necessary supplies, or other miscellaneous expenses.

Budget Detail:

Total Budget Requested: _____

Signatures:

Applicant: _____ Date: _____

Dissertation Advisor: _____ Date: _____

Department: _____ Date: _____
Chair or Director of Graduate Studies

Approved by: _____ Date: _____
Graduate School Representative

Please submit completed form with attachments (if any) to The Graduate School (AD 134) by the 4th Friday in March.