

Professional Development Resources (on the web)

Imagine Ph.D. is a free online career planning and exploration tool that is especially useful in helping students think about and prepare for careers outside the academy:

<https://www.imaginephd.com/>

The American Historical Association offers a range of professional development services:

<https://www.historians.org/jobs-and-professional-development>

The Organization of American Historians also offers valuable professional development services:

<https://www.oah.org/resources/professional-development/>