

Accessing Journal Article from Libraries Website

The majority of the e-reserve journal articles are available in print or via library subscription databases. Students will need the journal article citation to find the article. Below are instructions for finding articles from a citation.

Example:

Beachy, R. N. (2010). Science and Sustainability: The Emerging Consensus. BioScience, 60(6), 406-407.
doi:10.1525/bio.2010.60.6.2

Option #1

If there is a 'DOI' (digital object identifier) number in the citation:

On campus: enter the DOI number in a Google search box to find the article.

Off-campus: use our citation linker (located on the Library A-Z list); enter DOI and click on 'Look Up.'

Option #2

Click on the Journals & eBooks tab from the Libraries homepage at <http://library.binghamton.edu/>

Enter the name of the journal title – BioScience – in the search box and choose 'Title Equals' from drop down box; hit search.

The screenshot shows the Binghamton University Libraries homepage. The header includes the logo "binghamtonuniversitylibraries" with the tagline "Connect • Discover • Create" and navigation links for "Search & Find", "Research Help", "Locations", "Services", and "About". A banner image shows a smiling woman at a library desk. Below the banner, there is a "Home" link and a "Library A-Z | Site Search" link. The main content area is divided into several sections:

- News & Events: Contains several news items, including "Borrow an iPad from the Bartle Library" and "New! Research Project Calculator". A green arrow points from this section to the "Journals & eBooks" link in the "Find It!" menu.
- Find It!: A vertical menu with links for "Databases by Title", "Journals & eBooks", "Library Catalog", "Subject Guides", and "Site Search".
- Journals & eBooks Search Box: A search interface with a text input field containing "bioscience", a dropdown menu set to "Title equals", and a "Search" button. A green arrow points from the "Journals & eBooks" link in the "Find It!" menu to the search box, and another green arrow points from the "Search" button to the search box.
- Library Catalog: A section with a "Search" button and a "Title Equals" dropdown menu. A green arrow points from the "Title Equals" dropdown to the search box.
- Course Reserves | Interlibrary Loan (ILLiad): A section with a "Search" button. A green arrow points from the "Search" button to the search box.

At the bottom right, there is a "bartle library" logo and social media icons for Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube.

From the result page, if available electronically, choose a database from the list based on the publication date (note: there may be more than one database option); click on name of database to access articles.

The main search area has tabs for "All Resources", "Journals", and "e-Books". Below these are search filters: "0-9 A B C D E F G H I J K L M N O P Q R S T U V W X Y Z Other", a "Title equals" dropdown menu, and "Search" and "Clear" buttons. A second "Search" button is located below a "Please select a subject category" dropdown.

The search results show "1 record retrieved for the search: Title equals 'bioscience'". The record details for "Bioscience (0006-3568)" are listed, including availability in various databases like Academic OneFile, Academic Search Complete, Environment Complete, MasterFILE Premier, Vocational & Career Collection, and BioOne. A "Print" button is visible. A green arrow labeled "Online Databases" points to the database list, and another green arrow labeled "Print" points to the print button.

From the journal page, select the publication year (2010), volume number (60) and issue number (6).
