

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF AN EMERGENCY MEDICINE PHYSICIAN DR. MARK SILVERBERG '91

FRIDAY, MARCH 11

10:45 AM | UNIVERSITY UNION (UU) 111

Are you interested in a career in medicine?

Dr. Mark Silverberg '91, will talk about his path from Binghamton, through medical school, to his current career in emergency medicine.

The Physician Alumni Lecture Series, A Day in the Life, gives students the opportunity to hear from alumni physicians representing a vast array of specialties. A question and answer session will follow the talk.

Alumnus Dr. Mark Silverberg, MD FACEP, graduated from Binghamton University in 1991 with a bachelor's degree in biological sciences. He earned his medical degree from SUNY Downstate Medical Center. Upon graduation, he matched into his Emergency Medicine residency at Kings County. After his residency he joined the faculty at SUNY Downstate and began his academic career as the Director of Student Education. Silverberg is currently Associate Residency Director and an attending physician at SUNY Downstate/Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn, NY.
