The School of the Arts

Welcome back! I hope you had a fun and restful break. We are starting the semester with a full slate of productions, so please see below for School of the Arts upcoming events in January and February. You can also subscribe to our shared calendar and see upcoming programming on our website.

Be sure to mark your calendars for May 1-3, when every department in the School of the Arts will participate in a showcase of student work! We'll all come together for student performances, presentations, films, visual art and more, as well as food and refreshments.

Fall 2023 was a time of listening, learning, reflecting and brainstorming, and I am excited to start putting this preparation into action in the semester ahead.

- Christopher Robbins, Founding Director, School of the Arts

COMING UP!

In the spring, the School of the Arts plans to host several initiatives focused on increasing cross-disciplinary collaboration:

- We will pilot an award to support cross-disciplinary art events/projects run by students from different majors.
- We are planning a professional practice panel with faculty from each department in the School of the Arts.
- Be sure to save the date for May 1-3 for the School of the Arts Student Showcase. Students from every department will present their work together!

SAVE THE DATE JANUARY AND FEBRUARY 2024 SOAR Programming

Please note this calendar is a functional prototype that Maja (Assistant to the Director) is populating herself, and is not a long term solution. We are exploring other systems to enable more efficient and collaborative scheduling, but for now, if you have events to submit, please send them to Maja at arts@binghamton.edu, or contact her for training in submitting events to the calendar directly.
