In addition to the individual publications and conference presentations listed immediately below,
BU Sociology graduate students organized the third biennial graduate student conference held on April 13-15, 2012, which included presentations by many BU graduate students. The program follows the individual list.

Individual Publications and Presentations

Matt Birkhold
Publications:
September, 2011, Special Issue "Reflections on a Black Worker’s Notebook: The Legacy of James Boggs’ The American Revolution. Author of "Doing For Our Time What Marx Did for His: Constituting the Boggsian Challenge to Marxist Praxis", pp. 235-255
"If You Don't Move Your Feet Then I Don't Eat: Hip Hop and the Demand for Black Labor,"
Race/Ethnicity: Multidisciplinary Global Contexts, Vol. 4, No. 2, Winter 2011, pp. 303-321.
pp. 57-64.

Anders Bjornberg
Presentation:
“Developing Marginality: Jute as an Intermediary Commodity,” Third Biennial Graduate Student Conference, Binghamton University, April 13-15, 2012.

Geetisha Dasgupta
Presentation:
“Food Riots and Anti-Systemic Spaces,” Toronto Historical Materialism Conference, York
University, May 11-13, 2012.

Antoine Dolcerocca
Presentation:
“Intellectual Property Monopolies and the Rise of a New Mercantilism,” Santa Barbara

Samantha Fox
Presentation:
“Local Agricultural Markets as Locations of Ex-Corporation in Upstate New York,” Third
Biennial Graduate Student Conference, Binghamton University, April 13-15, 2012.
Azat Zana Gundogan
Publications:
Media presentations:

Frank Hughes
Presentation:

Yu-ling Huang
Publications:

Presentations

Frank Hughes
Presentation:

Chungse Jung
Presentations:
“Global Patterns of Nationalist Mobilizations in the Global South.” Committee for the Political Sociology, American Political Science Association Annual Meeting, Seattle, WA. Sep. 1, 2011.

Steven Knauss
Presentations:
“Inter-imperialist Rivalry, the Crisis, and the Left,” York University, Toronto; Historical Materialism conference, May 11th, 2012.
Shehryar Qazi
Presentation:

Bengu Kurtege-Sefer
Presentation:

Ryan Mead
Presentation:

Brendan McQuade
Presentations:
“Comrades of the Pink Decade’: Ideological Change in the American Century.” 36th Annual Meeting of the Social Science History Association, Generation to Generation, Boston, MA, November 19, 2011.
“Political Policing in the US: Historical Perspectives on the Occupy Movement,” Teach-in for Free School University, Occupy Boston, Boston, MA, November 18, 2011.

Publications
Reynaldo Ortiz

Presentations:

“Decoding the Transition from Bohío to Barracón: The Growth and Development of Plantation Landscapes as Social Space and Disciplinary Discourse, 1759-1868,” 7th Annual Symposium on African American Culture & Philosophy, Purdue University, West Lafayette, Indiana, December 1-3, 2011.

James G. Parisot

Publications:

Presentations:

Yamoi Pham

Presentation:

“Nation and Empire: Dichotomous or Complementary?,” Third Biennial Graduate Student Conference, Binghamton University, April 13-15, 2012.
James Armel Smith
Presentation:

Gokhan Terzioglu
Presentation:

Kristen Tran
Presentation:

Melih Yeşilbağ
Presentation:

Presentations
“A Critique of the Neoclassic and Statist Approaches In the Political Economy of Development: Bringing Class Struggle Back In,” Third Biennial Graduate Student Conference, Binghamton University, April 13-15, 2012.

Babyrani Yumnam
Presentation
Third Biennial Graduate Student Conference on World Historical Social Science

On April 13-15, 2012 the Sociology Graduate Student Organization held their third biennial conference. Vijay Prashad was the keynote speaker, with presentations following from students across the region and nation. The program included:

FRIDAY

Keynote Speaker: Vijay Prashad
Dream History of the Global South

SATURDAY

Shifting Contours of American Power

Brendan McQuade (SUNY Binghamton), The New Militarized Policing in a World-Historical Perspective
James Parisot (SUNY Binghamton), American Empire and Emerging Powers: Theory and History

Ethan Warren (SUNY Binghamton), War, the Public, and Control: from Vietnam to Iraq

Women, Labor, and Activism

Monica Stancu (Columbia/University of Bucharest), Roma Women's Activist Movement in Post-Communist Romania
Kristen Tran (SUNY Binghamton), The Feminization and Asianization of Domestic Work: Gendered Labor Migration, Feminism, and the Question of Empowerment.
Marguerite Ward (SUNY Binghamton), Rural Women of Africa: Suffering & Solutions to SAP Induced Problems in Agriculture

Historical Capitalism, Empire, and Law

Ryan Mead (SUNY Binghamton), Van Eyck's Arnolfini Portrait as Indicative of the Transformation From Feudalism to Capitalism
Yamoi Pham (SUNY Binghamton), Nation and Empire: Dichotomous or Complementary?
Vanessa Miceli (York University), A Restless Pursuit of Stability: New Histories of the Modern Dynamic in English Property Law

Commodities, Geographies, and Immigration

Anders Bjornberg (SUNY Binghamton), Developing Marginality: Jute as an Intermediary Commodity
Babyrani Yumnam (SUNY Binghamton), Colonialism and Spaces of Uneven Development in Northeast India: A Historical Inquiry

SUNDAY

Neoliberalism and Gender in Mexico

Courtney Franz, Myra Thomas, Marissa Luck (The Evergreen State College), Gendered (Re)production and the Neoliberal Regime: Woman’s Labor in Mexico 1982-2000.

Political Economy: Output, Money, and Development

Ellis Scharfenaker (The New School), The Narrow Measure Value-Added of U.S. Output: An Examination of Cycles
Thomas Herndon (Umass Amherst), Marx, Graeber, and Money
Melih Yesilbag (SUNY Binghamton), A Critique of the Neoclassic and Statist Approaches In the Political Economy of Development: Bringing Class Struggle Back In

Capital, Markets, and Social Classification

Evrim Engin (SUNY Binghamton), Finance Capital and the Militarization of Time
Samantha Fox (SUNY Binghamton), Local Agricultural Markets as Locations of Ex-Corporation in Upstate New York
James Armel Smith (SUNY Binghamton), Social Classification and the Embodied “Human”

Capitalism and its Alternatives

Colin Donnaruma and Nicholas Partyka (SUNY Albany), Challenging the Presumption in Favor of Markets: Exploring Democratic Alternatives
Eric Windingland (SUNY Binghamton), Now We See the Violence Inherent in the System
Josh Gathany (SUNY Binghamton), History and the Principle of Explosion